WILL YOU CHANGE A YOUNG PERSON’S LIFE IN 2013?

Raise Mentor Training

Raise Foundation, in conjunction with TAFE NSI, secondary schools and community organisations, is conducting a free training course in mentoring young people in the community. Raise improves the lives of young people facing profound challenges through our Ismo program in high schools, our Bump program for young mums, and the Connections program at TAFE.

This mentor training course will be conducted at various TAFE Colleges and locations, one day per week for four weeks, as per the list below. Practical sessions linking mentors to young people will follow on various days at TAFE, high schools and community locations for the remainder of the 2013 school year, across the Sydney metropolitan area and now in Melbourne!

You might be retired, retrenched, parenting at home, studying, working part-time, or an interested community volunteer of any age - other mentors are between 25 and 82! You don’t have to be a teacher or an expert to be a mentor. You need to be a good listener and able to act as a sounding board for ideas and aspirations. Your skills and life experiences can make a real difference to a young person in your local community. You need two hours a week, a positive outlook and a genuine compassionate interest in young people.
